Learning from everyone

A journey can be the way we change our perspectives; thought process, personal growth

Everyone is unique

Adam yachid

The Mitten String
By Jennifer Rosner
Illustrated by Kristina Swarner
Random House Publishing

Learning from everyone

Lomeid mikol adam

Things you find on a journey
Things you learn on a journey

Modeh Ani, Birkot Hashachar, thanking God for our unique gifts

Torah - Don’t put a stumbling block before the blind (Lev. 19:14)

Torah - humankind is created b’tzelem Elohim (Bereishit 1:27); Siddur - bracha for unique creations

Superstitions – red string

Tzitzit - p’til techeilet, blue string from special marine dye

Vocabulary - Colors, Animals, Clothing

Sign language (Shema in sign language)

Awareness, acknowledge what you learn from others in your family and community; open to learning

Sheep – shearing, wool making, dyeing/spinning; Shatnez (שַׁעַׁטְנֵז) no mixing of wool and linen

Appropriate protocol for meeting or helping others.

The Talmud hints we can learn from animals, such as modesty from the cat, honesty from the ant (Eruvin 100b). What else might you learn from animals?

Modeh Ani, Birkot Hashachar

Thanking God for our unique gifts

The Mitten String

By Jennifer Rosner

Illustrated by Kristina Swarner

Random House Publishing

Learning from everyone

Lomeid mikol adam

Things you find on a journey
Things you learn on a journey

Modeh Ani, Birkot Hashachar, thanking God for our unique gifts

Torah - Don’t put a stumbling block before the blind (Lev. 19:14)

Torah - humankind is created b’tzelem Elohim (Bereishit 1:27); Siddur - bracha for unique creations

Superstitions – red string

Tzitzit - p’til techeilet, blue string from special marine dye

Vocabulary - Colors, Animals, Clothing

Sign language (Shema in sign language)

Awareness, acknowledge what you learn from others in your family and community; open to learning

Sheep – shearing, wool making, dyeing/spinning; Shatnez (שַׁעַׁטְנֵז) no mixing of wool and linen

Appropriate protocol for meeting or helping others.

The Talmud hints we can learn from animals, such as modesty from the cat, honesty from the ant (Eruvin 100b). What else might you learn from animals?